Dolomites: Where Adventure Meets Tranquility

The Dolomites, with their breathtaking landscapes, are an ideal destination for combining adventure and well-being. In winter, the ski slopes welcome thrill-seekers and families looking for moments of sharing. After a day on the slopes, let yourself be seduced by luxurious spas where relaxation and soothing treatments await you.

For a memorable experience in the heart of this unspoilt nature, we present three exceptional hotels: the Como Alpina Dolomites, the Lefay Resort and the Adler Resort.

COMO Alpina Dolomites

A serene retreat in the heart of the mountains

The COMO Alpina Dolomites is an invitation to comfort and refinement in the heart of the mountains. Designed to offer an intimate and warm atmosphere, the hotel offers spacious rooms with panoramic views of the snow-covered peaks, ideal for a family or couple's stay. The suites, elegantly decorated in a contemporary alpine style, combine natural wood and warm materials, creating a cozy atmosphere perfect to meet and relax.

As a couple, enjoy the privacy of suites with private balconies, perfect for quiet moments facing the mountains. The large suites offer comfortable and flexible living spaces for families, allowing everyone to feel at home while sharing precious moments.

The COMO Shambhala spa is a destination in itself, with signature treatments that revitalize body and mind. Whether it's enjoying an essential oil massage or diving into the indoor pool with a breathtaking view of the mountains, every moment here invites serenity.

On the dining side, COMO Alpina Dolomites excels in refined and local cuisine, where local products are sublimated with a unique touch of Asian inspiration. Whether you are looking for adventure or absolute relaxation, the COMO Alpina Dolomites guarantees an unforgettable stay, where every detail is thought to offer a discreet and authentic luxury experience.

Adler Aki Plose

A family refuge in the heart of the Dolomites

In the heart of the Dolomites, the Adler Aki Plose is the ideal refuge for families looking for sharing and adventure. Each room, designed for comfort and conviviality, offers breathtaking views of the mountains, creating a soothing setting to relax together. Children can thrive in a safe environment, with varied activities suitable for all ages, ranging from nature discovery to ski lessons supervised by professionals.

The family concept of the Adler Aki Plose is also reflected in its wellness area, where parents and children can relax in dedicated areas including heated outdoor pools and saunas. Parents will appreciate the time spent to recharge, while the youngest will enjoy a fun experience. The hotel restaurant offers menus adapted to families, with tasty local dishes that will delight young and old.

Every moment at the Adler Aki Plose is an opportunity to create memorable memories, where the harmony between nature, comfort and conviviality is fully lived. The hotel will open its doors in mid-November 2024, ready to welcome families for unforgettable getaways in the heart of the Dolomites.

Lefay Resort & Spa Dolomiti

Serenity in the heart of the mountains

Lefay Resort & Spa Dolomiti is a place where luxury is invited in the heart of nature with a philosophy centered on sustainable well-being. In this Italian setting nestled between dense forests and snowy peaks, each space is designed to create a perfect balance of elegance and simplicity. The suites, furnished in a minimalist and refined style, invite to a relaxing stay, ideal for families and couples looking for a break.

At the heart of the resort, the spa invites you to an unforgettable sensory journey. On several levels, there are indoor and outdoor pools, hydrotherapy circuits and treatment rooms where relaxation reaches its peak. Inspired by nature, Lefay's wellness rituals combine ancestral techniques and innovation to revitalize the body and mind. The restaurant's cuisine is distinguished by its refined dishes, rooted in Italian tradition with a contemporary touch, designed to nourish the soul as much as the palate.

After a day of skiing or hiking, the restaurant offers fine and balanced cuisine, with a focus on local products and Italian flavors. Lefay is thus an address where you take your time, where every detail invites relaxation, between luxury and alpine simplicity.
